W. L. Spurlock is down near Morehead on his farm there with his son, H. A. Spurlock. They have a good crop there and Mr. Spurlock's health is much better. He is enjoying his stay there.

The book company from which the state secured the music books for the first five grades sent W. A. Potter to our school Monday and Tuesday to give the teachers instructions on the new books.

J. P. Oney, who went to Excelsior Springs, Mo., last week for medical treatment, was found to be in a serious condition and underwent an operation. Mrs. Oney had a card this week saying he is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Oldfield and children Blanch, Tommy, and Franklin D., of Mize, and Mrs. Mildred May and little son Raymond Scott, of West Liberty, attended church Sunday at White Oak and were royally entertained at the noon hour in the home of Mrs. Minnie Lacy and Miss Lula Allen.

ANOTHER PRAIRIE GOVERNOR

Eight north of Governor Landon's state of Kansas lies Nebraska, another typical prairie state. She is smaller in size and population and poorer than neighbor Kansas. Just to keep the record straight, she modestly rises and offers a few facts about herself. To wit—

Nebraska has no state income, general sales, nor cigarette taxes, and her general property tax levy is the lowest of any state in the union, or $24 per $1000. Kansas has a state income tax, a cigarette tax, and an auto tonnage tax, and her general property tax is $31 per $1000.

Nebraska's subdivisions carry a bonded debt of $87,742,000. Kansas gives practically no state aid, and school costs have been slashed 37.4 percent since 1930, closing rural schools, throwing teachers on federal relief, and reducing rural salaries.

Nebraska received only $29,000,000 of federal relief money. Kansas, with a third greater population, received twice that, or $58,000,000. Nebraska's monthly relief payments ran $1 to $7 higher than Kansas.

Nebraska is one of the few states with an old age pension law, and in July paid federal-state pensions averaging $14.68 to each of 21,110 aged poor past 65. Between Feb. 1 and Sept. 30 she will have paid an estimated total of $2,753,044 in federal-state benefits to aged poor, blind, and dependent children. Kansas has no social security laws, and last year gave $751 aged poor county relief handouts, supplemented by federal relief funds, averaging $5.30 monthly.

It's ten to one that you've never heard of Nebraska's good governor. No special trains carry him about. No poems and songs are composed in his honor. His picture, decked in Nebraska's goldenrod, is not spread over the land. If you're interested, his name is R. L. Cochran, and he's a Democrat.—Pittsburgh (Pa.) Press.

LOGAN VS. LUCAS

Senator M. M. Logan, candidate for reelection and the nominee of the Democratic party, said in opening his campaign Saturday in Latonia:

"I think I know as much about the constitution as my opponent." He referred to the fact that his opponent, Robert H. Lucas, of Louisville, the Republican nominee, has promised to "save the constitution."

Senator is a former attorney general of the state of Kentucky and is generally recognized as one of the best lawyers of his day. He was a member of the court of appeals of Kentucky when he resigned six years ago to become his party's candidate for the United States senate.

Mr. Lucas grew up with the old political machine that he, Ches Searcy, and Matt Chilton created in Louisville. The records of the courts tell the way this machine voted repeaters and developed a system of election duplication that was almost a science. He later was collector of internal revenue and while collector ran for the Republican nomination for governor, supported by all the army of federal jobholders he controlled.

Later, becoming executive director of the Republican national committee in Washington, it was disclosed by a senate investigating committee that he had sent literature into Nebraska to try to beat U. S. Senator George W. Norris, the Republican nominee, who had dared to oppose the power trust. This literature was sent under the name of "John M. Fetters." For days an attempt was made to find where the money for it had come from and it was finally traced to Mr. Lucas' door.

Mr. Lucas now says he is going to save the constitution and the country and nothing pains him quite so much as the thought that a postmaster might take a hand in a political campaign.

BAPTIST CHURCH

AVERAGE MAN IS BETTER OFF

William E. Clow Jr., head of James B. Clow & Sons, Chicago manufacturers, has issued a pamphlet entitled "A Business Man's Personal Views of the Roosevelt Administration," in which he declares that President Roosevelt's record entitles him to an overwhelming reelection.

Speaking as a business man of long experience, he says that failure of the country to elect Mr. Roosevelt "would be a crying act of ingratitude to a man who has given his all in a desperate situation to help the country in every conceivable way and who has succeeded so magnificently." "Let's forget all arguments," he writes, "as to whether we should have gone off the gold standard—as to whether the government should have put on a relief program or not—as to whether aid should have been given to our agricultural population—as to whether the principles of NRA, such as maximum hours, minimum wages, no child labor, collective bargaining, etc., were good or bad—and just ask one question and be honest about it.

"Is or is not the average man considerably better off today than he was on March 4, 1933? In other words, the average man has a somewhat increased living expense, slightly higher taxes, and has assumed his small portion of the national debt, but over against this he has his wage, the value of any property he may own, returns he may be receiving from any investment, all increased more than proportionately. So that the net result is that the average man is better off today than he was on March 4, 1933.

"The real answer is that nine out of ten people are considerably better off than they were, and, regardless of their political persuasion, they cannot deny it.

"Because, in the last analysis, the real job of a president is to do all possible to make the average citizen better off at the end of his term of office than he was at the beginning. And no one can doubt that the Roosevelt administration, assisted, of course, by the economic forces of the country, has accomplished just exactly this.

"Certainly, in modern times, no administration has tackled such a job or accomplished so much."

"WORK PAYS AMERICA"

Over 100 persons, including county and town officials, witnessed the first showing in this district of a talking motion picture, "Work Pays America," at Rex Theater, Monday, Oct. 5, by representatives of the state office of the Works Progress administration. This picture portrays many interesting facts concerning the works program and its various activities, wherein 2,500,000 unemployed people are engaged in constructive work to a degree far beyond our imagination.

We were shown workers engaged in all types of projects, such as road construction, parks and playgrounds, health and sanitation, public buildings, and projects of educational value. It is interesting to know that the Works Progress administration is interested in:

130,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.
6,201 schools being built or repaired.
5,338 public buildings erected or repaired.
7,929 water and sewer systems.
3,783 flood and erosion projects.
5,722 parks and playgrounds.
551 airport projects.
168 electric systems installed or repaired.
289,000 young people of high school and college age being assisted to continue their studies, and kept out of the present crowded ranks of idle labor.

Ray Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Lewis of Blaze, was brought to the Morgan county hospital Thursday with an attack of appendicitis. After being treated he was able to be taken home Saturday.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thanks to friends and relatives who have rendered assistance and expressed sympathy and also to Rev. Harlen Murphy for his consoling service on the occasion of the bereavement which came to us with the death of our son and brother, Ora Patton.

OIL MEN MEET

Oil men of Morgan, Menifee, Montgomery, and Bath counties met at the courthouse in Mt. Sterling on Thursday night, Oct. 2, and organized Petroleum Industries committees for the four counties. G. W. Leslie of Cannel City was elected chairman of the Morgan county Petroleum Industries committee; D. P. Peyton of Cannel City was elected secretary; Lennie Patrick of Cannel City was elected publicity chairman; J. L. Stamper of Grassy Creek was elected legislative chairman; and Chas. Ward of Ezel was elected vice chairman.

Herbert L. Clay of Louisville, state secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Industries committee, addressed the meeting and explained its policies and purposes, which are:

1. To give aid to the strengthening of all state gasoline tax laws, so that evasion of taxes and substitutions may be prevented.
2. To oppose further increases in gasoline taxes.
3. To adhere to the principle that funds derived from gasoline taxes should be spent only for highway construction and maintenance.
4. To advocate reduction of gasoline taxes that are disproportionately high.

5. To oppose unreasonable restrictions upon the operation of motor vehicles.
6. To urge that taxation of petroleum products be left solely to the states.

7. To oppose all taxation and legislation inimical to the best interests of the petroleum industry and the highway users of each state.
8. To combat gasoline tax evasion by coordinating the committees' efforts with those of state and county tax collection officials, and-or with whatever other agencies are concerned with this problem.

9. To adopt a program of public relations which will assist in fostering and securing the legislative objectives outlined.

It was pointed out by Mr. Clay that the oil industry now pays 201 different taxes, that last year 11 percent of all taxes in the country were paid by the oil industry and on its products, and that in 1935 over $565,000,000 were paid in gasoline taxes alone in the United States, of which the motorists of Kentucky contributed over $12,000,000. It was estimated that there are approximately 54,000 Kentuckians directly dependent on the oil business in Kentucky.

LOGAN PRESENTS THE ISSUE

No orator is Senator M. M. Logan. Like Antony, his discourse is that of a "plain blunt man," who "speaks right on." But his sincerity carries conviction to his hearers; his points are made and remembered with greater clearness than if his sentences were clothed with the ornate rhetoric of the brilliant orator. In his speech at Covington, Senator Logan got at the meat of the matter in his usual straightforward manner, giving in one paragraph the real issue of this campaign, when he said:

"Regardless of what may be said, the question is whether the gallant Roosevelt shall continue his successful redemption of the nation, or shall we return to the dark and gloomy days when no one in authority knew the way out of the wilderness of woe? It may be said that Mr. Landon is different from Mr. Hoover, but Mr. Hoover is supporting him and those who were prominent in the Hoover administration are giving him their undivided support in time and money. It is but an imbecile who believes they would not dominate his administration, if he should be elected."

There it is in a nutshell. Shall we go forward with a program that has brought economic rebirth to the nation in less than four years, or shall we relinquish the gains made, to those who—no matter what they may say—are opposed not only to the way President Roosevelt is doing the job, but opposed to the job being done at all? Shall we return to that political theory, which holds that prosperity comes to the small business man, the farmer, the worker, only as it trickles down from bulging coffers of a favored few?

No, not if we return Franklin D. Roosevelt to the White House and men like Senator Logan to the congress—men who are in sympathy with a program which has given new and real meaning to the word democracy.

Miss Lula Allen had business in Lexington a few days last week.

THE SOUTH IS THE GOAT

Ever since the interstate commerce act was passed and the interstate commerce commission was created to carry this act into effect, the south has been discriminated against. The north has been given rates to the south so that it can ship its products to Memphis, Atlanta, New Orleans, and other southern cities and compete with similar manufactured articles produced in those cities. But the south cannot ship its products north and compete with northern products because of the very much higher freight rates.

In other words, the freight rates are nearly always lower from the north to the south than they are from the south to the north. Of course, rates on bananas, sugar, and oranges and such other things as are produced only in the south are made low enough so that the north can buy these things cheaply, but when it comes to anything else that the south produces and wants a market in the north it is prohibited by unfair discrimination in freight rates. Freight rates ought to be the same both ways on the same product. That is, to illustrate, if Grand Rapids, Michigan, which is the greatest furniture town in the north, has a certain freight rate on furniture to points in North Carolina, Highpoint, which is the greatest furniture factory in North Carolina, should have the same railroad rates to points in Michigan. This is nothing more than just. The reason the north has so many more manufacturing plants than the south is because its rates to the south are so much lower than the rates on the same products shipped from the south to the north. Therefore the south cannot compete with it in manufacturing.—Elizabethtown News

NEW CROP OF TAXES

Taxes for the year 1936 are now due. A two percent discount is allowed by state law for payment of taxes before Nov. 1. Taxes not paid by Jan. 1, 1937, will be increased to the amount of a penalty of two percent. Tax books are now going into the hands of the sheriff and his deputies for collection.

Revival Meeting

A revival meeting started Monday night of this week at Malone, and interest and attendance are increasing. Meetings are under the auspices of J. B. Wiseman, evangelist of Winchester. Everyone in reach is invited to attend.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Secretary of State Charles D. Arnett of Frankfort and Congressman A. J. May of Prestonsburg will address the voters of Morgan county at the courthouse at West Liberty on Friday, Oct. 9, in the interest of the national Democratic ticket.

Both these speakers are enthusiastic supporters of President Roosevelt and the entire Democratic ticket. Come and hear them.

If you have not registered under the new law, attend to that while here. Every voter should vote, and you must be registered or you cannot vote.

BRASS TACKS

This is the title of a new book written in a new style by an experienced author and published in new form and by an up to the minute publishing concern.

"Brass Tacks," by David Cushman Coyle, deals with the present day social and business situation and the conclusions are thought provoking and generally sound.

The handy volume contains 150 pages and can be procured for 25 cents from the publishers, National Home Library Foundation, Washington, D. C.

Saving the Silk Hat

In his speech at Syracuse, President Roosevelt related an amusing story about "the old gentleman in the tall silk hat who fell off the pier." The president explained that he leaped in the water and saved the old gentleman, but now was being upbraided for not saving the silk hat. Carrying the story a little further, the president might have explained that Alfred M. Landon is swimming out in an effort to salvage the silk hat.

McKenzie Making Good

Word comes from the C.C.C. camp in Oregon, where Johnnie McKenzie was recently assigned, that he is making a good record. He has just finished a course of instruction in truck driving and made the best record of all who were enrolled in the class. He was granted a diploma. His family and friends here are glad to hear of his fine work.

Wedding Is Announced

Mrs. Clifford Bryant of Middletown, Ohio, formerly of Denniston, Ky., announces the wedding of her daughter, Opal Bryant, to Lewis Pelfrey. They were married at Dry Ridge, Ky., Sept. 23. Mr. Pelfrey is formerly from Montgomery county but now employed by the American Rolling Mill Co. at Middletown. The couple are at home on Grand avenue in Middletown, Ohio.

TURLEY

Mrs. Emma Turley, mother of Mrs. S. R. Collier of this place, died at the home of her son, Ollie Beck Turley, at Carlisle, on Saturday of last week. Mrs. Collier had been with her mother for the past year. Funeral services for Mrs. Turley were held at Carlisle on Monday. Mrs. R. A. Baldwin of this place attended the services.

PATTON

Ora Patton, grown son of J. M. Patton, both formerly of Morgan county but for several years residents of Owensboro, died at a Lexington hospital on Saturday of last week. The body was brought here Monday by Prater & Murphy for burial near the old home near Lenox. Services were conducted by Rev. Harlen Murphy. The deceased was a nephew of Mrs. Oscar McKenzie of West Liberty.

New Crop of Taxes

Taxes for the year 1936 are now due. A two percent discount is allowed by state law for payment of taxes before Nov. 1. Taxes not paid by Jan. 1, 1937, will be increased to the amount of a penalty of two percent. Tax books are now going into the hands of the sheriff and his deputies for collection.

Revival Meeting

A revival meeting started Monday night of this week at Malone, and interest and attendance are increasing. Meetings are under the auspices of J. B. Wiseman, evangelist of Winchester. Everyone in reach is invited to attend.

Mrs. Henry Cole, Mrs. R. F. Nickell, Mrs. C. K. Stacy and daughters Frances Ann and Helen, and Bernard Lacy went to the breaks of the Big Sandy on Sunday to attend the big interstate meeting in the interest of establishing a park at that place. They heard the governor of Virginia and other good speakers, but came back disappointed, as Mrs. Roosevelt, the president's wife, was unable to get there.

Boyd Blair and family invited their aunts, Mrs. D. B. Lacy and Mrs. W. A. Caskey, for a trip Friday to Sandy Hook, where they picked up Mrs. Blair's mother, Mrs. W. A. Prichard, and drove to Greenup, where they spent the week end with Mrs. Caskey's mother. On their return Sunday they stopped near Grayson for another pleasant hour with their aunts, Mrs. Dot Davis and Mrs. R. F. Elam.

Mrs. T. H. Caskey was called Friday by Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Boggs to the bedside of her daughter Nell in a Mt. Sterling hospital. Nell had contracted a heavy cold while in school at Winchester. Her father spent Saturday night and Sunday with them. Nell was able to return to school on Monday.

The sixth grade pupils, taught by C. C. May, were thrilled Monday morning when they were privileged to march from their borrowed room in the Christian church to a brand new room in the new school building. It is thought four more rooms will soon be ready for use.

A number of relatives from Blaze and Wrigley visited Mrs. Ollie Blair on Friday. On Saturday she entertained for dinner Mrs. Grant Lewis, Mrs. Waverly Lewis, Mrs. Jim Henry Lewis, and Mrs. Henry Oakley, all of Blaze.

Mrs. W. P. Elam, Mrs. Ada Cochran, Robert Elam, and Misses Ethel Marie Elam and Mary Elizabeth Cochran had business Saturday in Lexington.

Mrs. R. C. Adams of Louisville, Mrs. D. J. Elam of Lexington, and Mrs. Morrie May of New Jersey spent Monday with their cousin, Mrs. C. K. Stacy.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Byars and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Brong enjoyed a fine dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lovely at Royalton.

Bill McKenzie and Walter and Kenneth Wells left Sunday afternoon for a place near Hazard, where they have secured work.

Anita Rose, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Gullett, who has been quite sick, is able to get around in the house.

Lesson for October 11

BECOMING A CHRISTIAN

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:32-34, Philip-pans 2:17-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Believe on the Lord
Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved.—
Acts 16:31.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Two Happy Prisoners.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Heroes in Prison.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—How May I Become a Christian.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
How to Become a Christian.

The conversion of Lydia and her gracious growth into usefulness as a Christian is in striking contrast with the experience that Paul had with the demon-possessed damsel (Acts 16:16-18). A satanic power of divination had made her profitable to unscrupulous men. Such men have not perished from the earth, and there are still those who make merchandise of silly and sinful women.

Paul commands the demon to come out of her and at once the issue is drawn.

I. Christianity versus Crooked Business (Acts 16:22-24).

As long as the missionaries were at the place of prayer and in the home of Lydia they were not disturbed. But as soon as they touched the illegitimate gain of these "business" men who were making money from the misfortune of the poor damsel, bitter opposition arose.

Cunningly combining the plea of false patriotism and anti-Semitism with the ever-potent argument that business was being hindered, they raised a hue and cry which resulted in the beating and imprisonment of Paul and Silas (Acts 16:24-25).

We live in another century, but men are the same. Let the church and its members only go through the motions of formal service and present a powerless religious philosophy, and the world will applaud and possibly support its activities.
But let the powerful power of the gospel go out through its life and ministry, and deliver devil-possessed men and women, let its God-given grace expose the hypocrisy and wickedness of men and there will soon be opposition.

II. Down, but not defeated (vs. 25, 26).

The preachers landed in jail, beaten, bloody, and chained to the stocks. What a disgrace it would have been if they had come there because of their misdeeds. How ashamed we are when professed Christian leaders sin and fall into the hands of the law.

But "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake" (Matt. 5:10). Little wonder that they forgot their bruises and their chains and began to sing and pray, even at midnight.

Note that "the prisoners were listening to them." The words we speak, the songs we sing, our every action, speak either for God or against Him. "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." As they pray God speaks, chains fall away, prison doors open. Men can lock doors; God shakes them open.

The jailer, cruel and bold when he put them into prison, but now
in fear, is about to kill himself.
But God has better thoughts concerning him. Paul cries out, "Do thyself no harm" and he experiences

III. Salvation Instead of Suicide (vs. 27-34).

Thank God for the earthquakes
in our lives which bring us to Him.
The jailer, being rightly exercised by God's dealings with him, asks the greatest and most important question that can ever come out of the heart of unregenerate man—"What must I do to be saved?" Reader, have you asked this question? Then you, too, are ready for the answer, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

The closing verses of our lesson present the personal testimony of Paul that he had surrendered.

IV. All for Christ (Phil. 3:7-14).

All was but loss to him compared with what he gained in Christ. We speak of surrendering all for Christ, but as a matter of fact we lose only what is of no real value and make infinite gain.
Paul, as are all great followers of Jesus Christ, was a "one thing" man. All that he had or was or hoped to be, every ounce of energy and love, went into his pressing
"toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Independence of Opinions
It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Overcoming Desires
I count him braver who overcomes his desires than him who conquers his enemies; for the hardest victory is the victory over self.
—Aristotle.

A Little Bit Humorous

KNOW RIGHT SIZE

The old shepherd's daughter was going to marry a town dweller.

Wishing to make her father look smart when he gave her away at the altar, she got him to agree to wear a hat, London Tit-Bits relates.

The shepherd went to an outfit-ter's and asked for a hat.

"What size, please?" asked the assistant.

But the old man did not know.

"We'll try six-and-a-half first,"

"Six-and-a-half be hanged," said
the old chap. "I wear a 15 collar, and I know my head be bigger than my neck."

TIMELY REMEDY

"How's that summer cold of yours, Tom?"

"Oh, I got rid of it."

"What did you take?"

"A fresh one."

Fatherly Advice

"My boy," said the business man to his son, "there are two things that are vitally necessary if you are to succeed in business."

"What are they, dad?"

"Honesty and sagacity."

"What is honesty?"

"Always—no matter what happens, nor how adversely it may affect you—always keep your word
once you have given it."

"And sagacity?"

"Never give it."—Santa Fe Magazine.

A Good Alibi

An inspector, while examining a class in school one day, asked,
"Who drove the Israelites out of Egypt, you?" he said pointing to a small boy in the corner.

"No sir, wasn't me," replied the boy, trembling. "I only came back from the country last week!"

Knights of Columbus Bulletin.

Sufficient

"Have you a smoking car on this train?" the approaching passenger asked of the brakeman.

"Well, no, we did have one, but the conductor thought the engine was doing so well, that he took it off."—Portland Express.

He Knew

Master: "Can anyone tell me what is meant by the Yellow Peril?"

Jones: "Yes; banana skin left on the pavement."—Stray Stories Magazine.

Quick Change

Gadd—That girl sings like a crow.
Dodd—Sir, that is my daughter!

"Yes, I was just saying she sings like a bird."

SMALL CHANGE

"Health is better than wealth."

"Lend me a dollar and I'll take my chances."

Doesn't Weigh Much

Husband (to wife at carnival):
My dear, I hope you have no objection to my getting weighed by this man?

Wife—Certainly not, darling, why do you ask such a foolish question?

Husband—Only to see, my love, if I could have my weigh once.

Meow-ow-ow!

Policeman.—"Hey, you, where you going with nine buckets of water?"

Boy—"I'm going to drown a cat."

Useless Fabrication

Young Writer—The art in telling a story consists of knowing what to leave unsaid.

Married Friend—It doesn't make much difference, my boy. My experience is that she finds out anyway.

Greetings

Servant (to lion tamer in cage):
"Sir, your tailor is here with his bill."

Lion Tamer: "Tell him to come in."

Attractive Cakes to Serve at Parties, and How to Make Them

Recipes for Old-Fashioned Sponge, Queen and Mocha Cakes.

The season for parties and entertainments is now in full swing, and delectable dishes are wanted on menus. Chief among these are cakes, so here are some recipes to help the hostesses.

Old-Time Sponge Cake.

1 cup flour
1 cup of granulated sugar
5 eggs
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon lemon extract
A dash of salt

Add sugar a little at a time to the well-beaten whites of the eggs.
Beat yolks separately and add to above. Sift the flour twice after adding the salt and baking powder. Mix this lightly with first mixture. Add flavoring. Pour into square pan and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees.

Hints.

Lemon is a flavoring particularly well suited to sponge cake.
Do not remove cake from pan until cold, but let it cool in inverted pan, as this prevents shrinkage and makes cake easier to remove.

Queen Cake.

1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup milk
4 eggs
1 1/2 cups flour
3 level teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Cream the butter and then add the sugar gradually, the milk, almond extract and well beaten eggs. Beat flour into cake, when flour has been sifted twice after salt and baking powder have been added. One-half cup of candied or maraschino cherries cut into pieces supplies an attractive note of color to cake. If used, add the last thing.

Fancy Cakes From Either Batter.

Cut cakes into diamonds, finger strips, and squares. Frost with different colored icings or chocolate frosting, letting the icing cover sides as well as top of pieces. Dot tops with bits of cherries, halves of English walnuts, or blanched almonds, pistachio nuts, tiny triangles of candied citron, etc.

Sprinkle some tops with coconut shreds.

Layer Cakes.

Either kind of cake can be made into chocolate layer cake, or any preferred layer cake. Ornament the tops with any of the things suggested for small cakes. The batter of the above cakes is so good that no frosting is needed, although it is decorative.

Individual Mocha Cakes.

1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
(caramelized)
1/2 cup hot coffee
1/2 cup walnut meats, finely chopped
24 large chocolate wafers
1 cup whipped cream

Blend caramelized sweetened condensed milk and hot coffee, beating until smooth. Chop walnut meats and add. Spread prepared mixture on chocolate wafers. Pile four wafers on top of each other for each individual portion. Chill in refrigerator three hours or longer. Garnish with whipped cream if desired. Serves six.

The Iron Hand

Ruth—Don't you wish we had lived in the romantic days of old so the gallant knights could have made love to us?

Dorothy—No, dear; I really don't believe sitting on an iron knee or resting my head on a metal chest would have appealed to me at all.—Fathfinder.

Why Bother?

A backwoods woman of the Middle West, the soles of whose feet had been toughened by a lifetime of shoelessness, was standing in front of her cabin fireplace
one day when her husband addressed her.

"You'd better move your foot,
maw; you're standin' on a live
coal."

Said the woman, nonchalantly:
"Which foot, paw?"

The Other Way

Old Lady (to parachutist)—I really don't know how you can hang from that silk thing. The suspense must be terrible.

Parachutist—No, mum; it's when the suspense ain't there that it's terrible.

Passenger Pigeon

Every species or subdivision of a species of domestic pigeon to be found in our country today had its origin in some European or Asiatic country, according to an authority in the Rural New-Yorker. North America, did, however, have a truly representative American pigeon, the Passenger pigeon, a wild pigeon whose natural habitat was the entire continent. This particular American bird would be with us today, had it not been for the unmerciful slaughter of it by those whose only thought was the making of "easy money," which brought about its extinction.

FARMERS' COLUMN

THE FARM AND HOME

Green tomatoes have practically the same food value as ripened tomatoes, and can be fried, stuffed, preserved, pickled, or used for pies. Tomatoes well matured at frost time may be ripened by pulling up the vines and hanging them in the basement, attic, or garage.

If blankets have become too short by shrinkage or mending, they can be lengthened by sewing at one end a strip of muslin 12 to 18 inches wide. This extra length can be tucked under the mattress at the foot, leaving the woolen part on the bed.

House plants need a cool soap and water bath occasionally to take the dust off the leaves. This can be done by laying the plant on its side and sponging each leaf off with absorbent cotton dipped in cool suds of mild soap. Be sure to rinse off the soapy water. Do not let the soapy water drain into the soil.

A good poultry house, either a new one or a remodeled one, will pay good dividends not only by increasing production but in reducing losses from disease. Many poultry diseases are due to poor sanitation in housing conditions.

Grazing grass close in the late fall or early winter probably means that it will not carry as much livestock the following season. Many farmers try to have their pasture go into the winter with enough growth to have the ground well covered.

Grain straws, corn stover, and coarse hays, and even some weeds, may be made into fairly good stock roughages by the use of black strap molasses. Some farmers dilute the molasses with water and then sprinkle the mixture on the roughage.

Change of Date in A.C.P.

County Agent Wratheer received notice Saturday that due to the drought the closing date for seedling soil conserving crops is extended from October 1 to October 31.

This is a very important change, as many farmers in Morgan county will now be able to meet their diversion payment.

Less Mosaic

The toll taken by tobacco mosaic was reduced in Logan county by farmers who followed the advice of County Agent C. L. Hill in not using home cured tobacco while working. Patches had less than 1/2 of 1 percent in many cases. Workers were careful to wash their hands with strong soap before entering the fields and to smoke or chew only manufactured tobacco, as mosaic is spread by contact with infected tobacco.

"Caramel Apples on a Stick"

Children are often hungry and tired when they come home from school. Milk or fruit juice is good for them, or a "caramel apple on a stick." The following recipe is approved by Miss Marie Barkley of the university of Kentucky home economics department. Cook one cup of white sugar, one cup of brown sugar, one half cup of water, and one half cup of vinegar together until a small amount dropped in cold water will give a crackling sound when pressed together. Stick a wooden skewer in each apple and dip it in the hot syrup. Drain on heavy waxed paper.

Homemakers' Market

Bell county merchants and other business men are encouraging farm women to start a homemakers' market. They believe it will lead to the production of more and better vegetables so that local stores eventually will be able to buy supplies within the county. Mrs. Nell Roach has been selected as market master. Produce will be sold in the Pineville hotel lobby.

Quality Exhibits

The high quality of the exhibits was a feature of the recent eleventh annual harvest festival at the Robinson agricultural experiment station at Quicksand, Breathitt county. Twenty-one eastern Kentucky counties contributed to the success of the event.

Exhibits were made of crops, including corn, small grains, hays and grasses, tobacco, garden products, apples, canned and baked foods, and flowers. Poultry and hogs comprised the livestock show. There also were extensive displays of home made articles, and by settlement centers and schools.

Four-H clubs had a prominent part in the fair, making exhibits of the farm and home products, and holding a big rally and speaking program the second day. Merit badges were bestowed on outstanding club boys and girls and on club leaders. Led by the university of Kentucky band, several hundred 4-H club members staged a parade which was witnessed by hundreds of people.

President Frank L. McVey of the university of Kentucky, Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the college of agriculture, and J. W. Whitehouse, state 4-H club leader, were speakers at the festival.

The American Jack

The jack was the first animal domesticated by man for carrying burdens. Jacks were bred and raised by King David. In 1787 the king of Spain presented George Washington with a jack and jennet. American Jack developed from the five principal breeds imported from other countries. These are: the Andalusian from southern Spain, Maltese from island of Malta, Catalonian from Pyrenees mountains in Spain, Majorca from island of Majorca, Poitou from province of that name in France. American jack is 15 to 20 hands high, weighs 1,000 to 1,200 pounds, heart girth 45 to 72 inches, cannon bone 8 to 10 1/2 inches. Color, black.

The Cahokia Mounds

The Cahokia mounds are a group numbering at least 85 mounds on the bottom near Cahokia, Ill. The central mound, known locally as Monk's mound, because it was occupied from 1818 by a settlement of Trappist monks, is the largest artificial earthwork in North America north of Mexico. It is 1,080 feet long, 710 feet wide, and 100 feet high. A part of the area is a state park.

First Paint in Utah

The first paint made in Utah was made by Brigham Young, records say. In the early '80s the pioneer church leader had a 100-pound keg of lead pigment brought by ox team across the plains. Joseph Pitt crushed enough flaxseed to make the linseed oil necessary for making the paint which was applied to the residence the church head was building for himself.

Dog Is of Ancient History

The dog is truly an animal of ancient history. The many breeds each have a separate history woven about their early ancestry. There's a dog from every country. France has its sheepdog, the Briard; Ireland—the Kerry Blue terrier; Switzerland, its St. Bernard; Spain, its Pointer and Spaniel and so on.

The Pallbearer

A pallbearer is so called from the fact that originally he was required to hold up the corners and edges of the pall covering the coffin. The word "pall" is derived from the Latin "pallium," meaning a coverlet. It occurs in the English language as early as about 1440.

The Arctic Goose

The Arctic goose is a water bird and flies over land only with the greatest hesitancy and only for short distances. In their annual migrations the geese follow the coast line down from the Arctic, wintering in the Carolinas.

Did Not Know His Calendar

An Egyptologist points out that Mohammed was so ignorant of the nature of the problem of a calendar that he forbade insertion of months, a device necessary to keep his moon calendar in step with the solar year.

Seal of Treasury of U. S.

"Thesauri, Amer. Septent. Sigil." is an abbreviation of the Latin motto "Thesauri Americae Septentrionalis Sigillum," which is translated Seal of the Treasury of the United States.

HOW

WINE IS USED AS WEATHER INDICATOR IN AUSTRIA.—Wine as a weather prophet allegedly more reliable than the rest of barometers is today one of the chief items of discussion in Vienna, states a correspondent in the Detroit Free Press.

"Go thou to the wine cellar, Mr. Weatherman, and look well and long on the wine whether it be red, white, or golden," is the advice being given in liberal doses to the official meteorological experts. The admonition was prompted by failure on several occasions to predict correctly the week-end weather, which to Austrians is one of the highest importance because of their habits of leaving the city in hundreds of thousands for hikes through the countryside.

Examples of alcohol's reliability to forecast rain when the barometer was refusing to speak have been given in abundance.

In the former imperial wine cellar of the Hapsburgs, for instance, it is said that the wine three levels under the ground literally rumbles on the eve of sudden rain.

How Tombstone, Arizona, Got Name in Mining Days

Tombstone, Ariz., a living specter of the old West, takes its name not as might be supposed from the desolate landscape that surrounds it. Ed Scherff, a pioneer prospector, is responsible. Scherff, in a correspondent in the Kansas City Times, went prospecting in the Apache-infested region of southern Arizona in 1877 under the protection of United States soldiers. "Have you found anything?" the soldiers would inquire each night as he returned to the shelter of camp. "Not a thing," he would reply. "Yes, you'll lose your scalp and find your tombstone," they would retort. Scherff, however, found not a grave but a gold mine that netted him $800,000, the site of which he christened "Tombstone."

How Papier-Mache Is Made

Papier-mache is made of cuttings of white or brown paper boiled in water, and beaten till they are reduced to a kind of paste, and then boiled with a solution of gum arabic to give tenacity to the paste. Sulphate of iron, quicklime, and glue or white of egg sometimes are added to enable the material to resist the action of water, and borax and sulphate of soda to render it fireproof. It is used for making all sorts of useful and ornamental articles that can be formed in molds. When dry the objects usually are covered with a mixture of size and lamp-black, or inlaid with mother-of-pearl, receiving last a coat of varnish. Sometimes or gilding sheets of paper are pasted on, and pressed when soft into the form desired.

How Leaves Leave

Trees do not all drop their leaves in the same manner. With the beech it is the most newly formed twigs that lose their foliage first. With birches and poplars the reverse is the case, for it is the most recently formed leaves that drop last on the longest. A row of Lombardy poplars in the autumn looks almost ridiculous with its tufts of foliage adorning the topmost branches of every tree. A peculiarity of the ash is that the main leafstalks stay long after the leaflets have fallen. Young oaks often retain some green leaves until the end of the year. Small birches and hornbeams will not cast their leaves, although these turn brown, until the spring.

How to Lay Nailless Floors

Laying of wood floors without nails is not a new innovation by any means but is an adaptation of a principle used by builders of European chateaux more than 100 years ago. The basic used a century ago, however, contained a great deal of moisture, which hastened deterioration of the floor. Modern plastic materials used in laying nailless floors actually aid in damp-proofing the house and to a certain extent absorb sounds. They are applied either hot or cold over a sub-floor of wood or concrete and the finished wood flooring imbedded in it.

How to Tell a Poisonous Snake

The copperhead, the rattlesnake and the cotton-mouth moccasin are members of the family of "pit-vipers." They all have a deep pit between the eye and nostril. The head is broader than the body, triangular and flat. Harmless snakes have a round eye pupil while poisonous ones have an elliptical or cat-like pupil.

How to Remove Obstinate Cork

To remove a cork from a bottle when there is neither a corkscrew or knife at hand, stick two safety pins diagonally through the cork, opposite to each other. By pulling on the upper part of the two pins the cork can be removed readily. This comes in handy when traveling.

How to Bend Thin Tubing

Thin-walled metal tubing can be bent without "buckling" by the following method: fill the tube with melted tallow, which is allowed to harden. Then make the bend as desired and apply mild heat to the tube to melt and remove the tallow.

How Ninety-Six, S. C., Gets Name The name Ninety-Six, S. C., is due to the fact that it was 96 miles from Fort Prince George on Keowee river.

CRAMMED BARRELS HID NOTED PAPERS

Present discussions about the proper care of Scottish family papers and charters and the appeals for their delivery into safe custody brings to mind a classical example of the rough handling of state papers from that country, says the Manchester Guardian.

When Grant Duff visited the Register house at Edinburgh in 1862 he was shown a number of valuable and important documents of that kind, including the last made by Mary Queen of Scots of her jewels, and was told that this, with many other valuable papers, had been taken to London in the time of Cromwell and not sent back to Edinburgh till recent times. These valuable papers were packed in hogsheads and suffered much from the damp.

Joseph Robertson, the greatest of Scottish antiquaries of the period, had a good story about Mary's list of jewels which was one of the documents that suffered from the damp. He declared that Miss Strickland mistook the damp stains for the queen's tears and wrote a pathetic little passage accordingly.

GRAVITY CHANGING, SCIENTISTS LEARN

The force of gravity, which keeps rocks, houses, and men from flying off the rotating earth like water or mud flies from the rapidly turning wheels of an auto, is changing noticeably in some places on our globe. A Soviet scientific expedition in the Caucasus has found unmistakable evidence in that region that over a period of years the pull at the earth's center on all matter around it has varied. Objects whose mass has remained identical have fluctuated in weight. Since the pull of gravity comes from exactly the center of the earth's total mass and becomes greater as this center is approached, it is thought the variation detected must be due to gigantic shifts of matter under the earth's crust which result in moving the earth's center of gravity. It can easily be seen how such shifts would affect the weight of objects when it is understood that the weight of anything is greater at the bottom of a mine than it is at the surface of the earth. Likewise a man weighs more standing at the North or South pole than he would weigh at the equator, partly because on the flattened pole he is nearer the center of the earth.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Wind Magic

One of the big radio outfits was looking for an economical method for charging radio storage batteries. They heard about a couple of farm lads at Sioux City, Iowa, who had developed a windmill charger. These boys had for several years been re-winding old automobile generators and attaching them to small windmill propellers, which they then sold to farmers for charging automobile batteries. A dealer was soon made to have the boys build new windmill chargers which could be sold at a low price with battery radio sets. Their first order was for 50,000 windmill chargers. We happened to meet one of the officers of the radio company on the train not long ago. He told us the story and added that this farm invention had done a lot to boost sales.—The Country Home.

Spreading Beauty

The vast ultra-modern flats of Austria and Germany usually have bare, windowless sides which might be used for commercial posters. But an artist has altered all that, says Tit-Bits Magazine. He painted scenic designs on the side of one, and so enraptured were the people that he soon obtained other commissions. The craze caught on, and now dozens of houses have been decorated with ships, birds, vigorous figures in action, and all kinds of decorative futuristic designs. A few depict commodities, and they have given the artistic profession a big gor blip that it has received for a long time.

Fare for Fares

There is a thoughtful taxi driver who carries a needle and thread and a dictionary in his cab. He says that whenever two men get into his taxi they always argue about some word or other; hence the dictionary. The needle and thread are there because women often take taxis when they have a run in their stockings.

Artesian Wells Beat Drought

When a drought threatened their surface water supply the people of Harisonburg, Va., went into the earth for a new one. This unusual water supply is an artificial subterranean reservoir fed by 12 subterranean streams.

'Fast Train' Goes 40 Mi. in 8 Hrs.

Suspicion

"What is the principal business in Crimston Gulch?" asked the stranger. "Let's understand each other," said Mess Bill. "Are you a drummer or a detective?"

In the Woods

Visitor—Will I get any other hunting here?
Native—Well, you won't get colder.—Pearson's Weekly.

Cars Crack Cathedral Dome

Street cars running near the cathedral in Florence, Italy, have caused Brunelleschi's famous dome to crack to you.

Wit and Humor

WARDROBE TROUBLES

They were speeding in a taxi toward the theater.

"I wish you hadn't made me dress up, I—er—" he began.

"Nonsense, dear," she replied. "You look nice in your dress clothes."

"I wish I hadn't, all the same."

"I never saw such a man."

"All the same, I think we ought to turn back."

"We're ten minutes late already. What's the idea?"

"Well, I've just remembered that I left the tickets in my brown suit."

A Bad Fall

"You are late, William!" said the schoolmaster.

"Yes, sir. I had a nasty fall this morning," was the reply.

"Where did you fall?" asked the master.

"Well, sir, after mother called me I fell asleep again."

Hazing

"Is there much hazing in your school?"

"Yes," said the student. "We're rather polite among ourselves, but every now and then we stir the board of education up to haze a professor."

Lucky Wife

Guest—You certainly have one of the most polite and attentive husbands I ever saw.

Wife (smiling)—Yes, you see, he used to be an attendant at a filling station.

SO WHAT?

Landlady—I'll give you just one day in which to pay your rent.

Boarder—Very well. I'll choose next Christmas.

Couldn't Predict the Future

"I've come to ask for your daughter's hand."

"When were you first struck by her?"

"Well—er—we haven't quarreled so far."—Stray Stories Magazine.

Close Friends

Mother—I wish you'd punish Bobby. He's been fighting with Harry again.

Dad—With Harry? I thought they were inseparable.

Mother—They pretty nearly were. It took four of us to drag them apart!

Natural Science

Sambo—Why am I dat a black cow gives white milk dat makes yellow butter?

Rastus—For de same reason dat blackberries am red when dey is green.

Not Seen Since

Manager—Have you seen the cashier this morning?

Clerk—Yes, he came in without a mustache, and borrowed a railway time table.—Stray Stories Magazine.

No Fair!

Boy (with battered face)—I still say I can kick him with one hand.

Friend—Why didn't you?

Boy—Aw, he wouldn't fight that way!

First Laugh

"Are women humorists?"

"Who can doubt it?" said Miss Cayenne. "They've been laughing at men ever since Eve handed Adam the red apple."

FASHION NOTE

"Do you believe in love at first sight?"

"It all depends whether she is in a house dress or a ball gown."

Prayers

A little boy was saying his go-to-bed prayers in a very low voice.

Mother—I can't hear you, dear.

Small One (firmly)—Wasn't talking to you.

Cryptography Is Old

Cryptography is of the greatest antiquity. Plutarch and Gellius tell of a method employed in Sparta for communicating with their generals abroad. The earliest system was the winding of a strip of parchment spirally upon a staff with the edges meeting. The message was then written along the line of jointure. The broken lines could only be read afterward by rolling the parchment upon a duplicate staff in the possession of one who knew the precise size. There are a great many other forms of cryptograms. The Jews made one of them. See Jeremiah 16. Julius Caesar and Augustus made frequent use of them.

Penalty for Desertion

A man who deserts from the army in time of peace is liable to arrest for three years after the date of desertion. After that he is immune from arrest, provided he has lived continuously in the United States under his true name during the three years following his desertion. He may then apply for a discharge.

Nationality of First Settlers

The first settlements in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia were English; New York and New Jersey, Dutch, and Delaware and Pennsylvania, Swedish.

First Capital of Japan

Nara was the first capital of Japan (708 to 784), and the evidences of a splendid past are still traceable in the wide dimensions of its parks and in its ancient shrines and temples. Nara is a place of pilgrimage for the Buddhists of Japan.

Birth of National Bank Note

The national bank note came into being during the Civil war, when the government was attempting to finance its military campaign by a combination of bond flotations and the emission of United States notes ("greenbacks").

Amish People Came in 1683

Fish That Swallow Other Fish

Fish that swallow other fish sometimes aid scientists in obtaining rare specimens. In one instance, the stomach of a large catfish yielded the hitherto unknown infant stage of a great Caspian sturgeon.

Rainbow Around the Sun

A rainbow around the sun is called the corona, and contains all colors of the rainbow, and in the same order. It is caused by diffraction of light by minute ice crystals or drops of water floating in the air.

No Rides for Witches

Windmills in Portugal are often hung with pots to keep witches from taking free rides when the mill turns, say Jan and Cora Gordon in "Portuguese Holidays."

Paste Gems

The word "paste," used of gems, is derived from the Italian word "pasta," meaning food; suggested by the soft plastic material used to imitate the real gem.

HEALTH STORY

To Bernard E. Whitt,
Supervisor Special Education.
Dear Mr. Whitt:

One day when I was two years old I was playing in the kitchen. Marjorie, my oldest sister, had spilled some water on the floor and I was skating there. I fell with my legs around a box and hurt my left hip.

Mother took me to the Jackson hospital. The doctors, after taking an x-ray of my hip, said that it was out of place. They suggested that I eat plenty of cereals and vegetables, and told me to take plenty of exercise and get all the fresh air I could. They also said for me to drink plenty of water. The doctors said they couldn't do anything for me and suggested that I go to a hospital for treatment.

I went to the Baptist general hospital, which is now known as the Stevens hospital at Ashland, Kentucky. I stayed there for eleven months and took a treatment.

After I came home it was several days before I was able to walk. I later made trips to Mt. Sterling to clinics and the doctors asked that I get a pair of shoes with a built up sole for my left leg so that both legs would be even, for after the fall my left leg was shorter than my right one. I got two pairs of the shoes they suggested, and the sole of the built up one is 1 1/2 inches thick.

The shoe was a great help to me and I was getting along fine until last winter I bruised my hip and also broke it in four places while sleigh riding.

The doctors suggested that I get plenty of rest and take cod liver oil. I don't think I will attempt skating or sleigh riding again, as I hope to get well so that I can play as other boys do. I want to go to school. I am now taking classes with Mrs. Carter, the emergency teacher, and also my little sister, who can't go to school. I think the emergency education is a great thing. There are five of us in Mrs. Carter's class and we are doing as well as if we were in school. In fact we are trying to get ahead of those who go to school.

Yours truly,
MARVIN JOHNSON

BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

Berea, Ky., Sept. 30, 1936
Mr. Bernard E. Whitt,
West Liberty, Kentucky.
My dear Mr. Whitt:

You have a most interesting and worth while task in your attempt to provide books for the adults in your county, who have never had the privilege of good reading material. I suggest that you write to Miss Alice Kirk, Berea college, who has charge of our own circulating library. I know that she will be glad to send libraries to you, provided they are not already engaged.

You might also write to Miss Lena F. Nofier, secretary of the Kentucky library commission, Frankfort, who would be able to give you valuable assistance, arranging probably for circulating libraries.

An enormous amount of free material can be obtained from the college of agriculture, Lexington, Ky. I think you might write direct to Mr. Thomas R. Bryant and state your problem. He will be glad to select certain bulletins which the extension department has that would be of use to you people.

I would also write to the bureau of education, Washington, D. C., and see if they do not have considerable available material.

The extension department of the International Harvester Co., Chicago, issues a number of bulletins in simple language, well illustrated, dealing with farm and home problems.

The best gift I can make to you I believe to be the volume entitled "Home Improvement," which I am sending to you by this mail. This has proved to be an absolutely invaluable help in work similar to yours.

With every good wish, I am
Sincerely yours,
WM. J. HUTCHINS,
President Berea College.

PEKIN SCHOOL NEWS

Our school is progressing nicely. "The Homemakers' Club of Pekin" met last Saturday and had an all day quilting. Present were Helen Ward, Edna Long, Lilly Combs, Addie Ward, Mabel Ward, Esther Henry, Kathleen Henry, Golda Couch, Clema Stamper, Edna Patrick, Edith Ward, and Goldie Manning. A basket dinner was served and everyone enjoyed the day. We are planning to bring the quilt to the fair.

We are rejoicing over the splendid pie supper we had here Friday night. The proceeds amounted to $20.34.
CHRISTINE LEWIS, Teacher.

THE SCHOOL FAIR

The best school fair ever held in Morgan county closed Friday night. More than 300 exhibits were brought in Thursday and displayed in the auditorium, where they were judged by judges from Lexington, Salyersville, and Morehead.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock the parade formed on the campus, led by 46 players in the Morehead state teachers' college band under the direction of Professor George, followed by the West Liberty school. Thirty-eight schools were in the parade. They marched up Main street, which had been cleared of all traffic, and passed the judges' and reviewing stand, where each school gave its yell and song.

2,450 children passed in the parade. Probably 5,000 people stood on the sidewalks and in the town and thrilled at this demonstration of the school spirit.

Every school presented some interesting idea. A transportation unit had been worked out by the West Liberty school.

The following schools were in the parade, in the order named: West Liberty, Wrigley, Adele, Straight Creek, Caskey Fork, Centerville, Redwine, Rockhouse, Banner, War Creek, Lenox, Grassy Lick, Mussel Shoals, Upper Lick Fork, Grassy, Consolation, Mize, Fannin, Wells Hill, Pekin, Caney, White Oak Branch, White Oak, Stacy Fork, Malone, Williams, Carter, Flat Woods, Blazo, Crockett, Index, Cynas Creek, Maytown, Oak Hill, Pomp, Lacy Creek, Nickell Adult School, Cannel City.

Forty patrons of Stacy Fork were in the parade with their school. One new group in the parade was an adult school taught by Anna Nickell from Nickell. Caskey Fork school was carrying a float with a little girl in it. Cannel City won the parade by bringing seven trucks which had been beautifully decorated and each truck represented some idea. First was the goddess of learning represented by Geneva Collinsworth, followed by the athletic team, debating, glee club, dramatic club, and the faculty members at their desks directing their classes, followed by the Parent-Teachers association.

The orations for the amateur hour were fine. The courthouse was filled with an enthusiastic crowd. Every number rendered would have done credit to any higher institution of learning.

Everyone who witnessed the various activities during the school fair must admit that the schools of Morgan county are going forward. That the teachers are competent and efficient, and the fair which has been worked up thru the supervisor's program with the aid of the helping teachers was outstanding.

BERNARD E. WHITT

HICKORY GROVE SCHOOL

During this third month of school we have made marked improvements in our schoolroom. We now have over fifty library books and a book cabinet (5x3 feet) in which to keep our books and materials. We have no worries now about our materials being destroyed over the week end when church services are held in the schoolhouse. We also have a sturdy, well built teacher's desk of standard size. The boys helped in the making of this desk.

The pupils are all taking interest in the clean hands health campaign we are carrying out. A soap company sent us our charts and samples of soap.

A pie supper given here Sept. 24 brought in $8.10. We have used the proceeds to buy equipment such as a globe, a school Bible, a flag, and a pencil sharpener.

The following pupils received perfect attendance slips for the third month: Elmer Cox, Audrey Cox, Christine and Rutha Fairchild, Eula Utterbach, and Junior Lewis.

JAMES L. PEYTON, Teacher.

COTTLE SCHOOL NEWS

We feel that we are well on the way toward a successful year's work. We have an active P.T.A. with John Crouch as president and Mrs. Maggie Burton as secretary. The parents showed true cooperation at the pie supper Sept. 25. We cleared a total of $17.00 after deducting expenses. We hope to buy some needed supplies for our schoolroom and some primary work material.

Our attendance for the past month was unusual for the distance so many of the younger ones have to come. Cattle may be behind the hills but we're climbing—come and see!

Know Your Language

By C. L. Bushnell

School of English,
International Correspondence Schools

USE of superfluous words is frequent in both writing and conversation. "Hollow tube" is a case in point. By its very nature a tube is hollow; if it weren't hollow it wouldn't be a tube. "Actual fact" is another example. That which is a fact is an actuality, and that which is actual exists in fact. To write or say "It is an actual fact" is merely using a superfluous word to convey the same thought that "It is a fact" conveys.

Modifying words, phrases and clauses should be placed as close as possible to the words to which they relate. When this is forgotten odd results are likely to follow, as in the following sentence. "He carried a bag of peanuts in his hat, which he fed to the elephant." If it was his hat that he fed to the elephant, this is all right. Otherwise it is all wrong.

Benzine Once Useless

Benzine, discovered by Faraday in 1825, was of no practical use for some 30 years until the first dye was made from coal tar, mauve.

May we give you
six dollars?

NOT in cash, of course. We're speaking of its equivalent. But here is something for you to consider:

Every year this newspaper brings you at least three outstanding novels in serial form. Purchased as books each would cost not less than $2, making a total expenditure of at least $6 per year.

Like yourself, we could find plenty of uses for that $6. Some member of the family is always in need of a new pair of shoes or some other necessity. But at the same time your requirements for good reading material must be met. By accepting these three novels each year we feel you are treating yourself to real enjoyment, at the same time giving your purse a substantial boost.

These novels are a source of constant pride to us. Every year we select them from the season's most outstanding best sellers, offered in serial form by a large newspaper syndicate organization. We'd like to feel that you—as a subscriber—always look forward to reading the coming installment in the next issue. It gives us a great satisfaction to know that here is another reason why our paper is popular in the home.

You are invited to begin reading our novels now. These regular brief visits to fictionland will prove a delightful interlude from your work-a-day activities. And it will make us happy to know that you are getting enjoyment from them.

THE END OF JERRY'S SUSPICIONS

JERRY MUSKRAT, caught by a leg between two roots struggled in vain to free himself. Some one was coming down the Laughing Brook. Jerry knew who it was. Yes, sir, Jerry knew who it was. It was Farmer Brown's Boy. Jerry knew by the whistle. You see, Farmer Brown's Boy is apt to whistle when he is happy.

The knowledge that it was Farmer Brown's Boy brought no relief to Jerry Muskrat. He was suspicious of every human being, and all because a stranger had first won Jerry's friendship and then set traps for him. Such an act is called treachery, and one who had once met with treachery is likely to be filled with suspicion for a long time afterward.

Nearer and nearer came Farmer Brown's Boy, and harder and harder Jerry struggled. But Jerry's struggles were in vain. Do what he would, he couldn't get that leg free. Suddenly he stopped struggling and lay perfectly still. In his heart was a faint, faint hope that Farmer Brown's Boy would not see him. But Farmer Brown's Boy did see him. He stopped whistling. He stood still. Then a look of anger passed over his face. "I must have overlooked a trap," he muttered, "and that poor little chap has stepped in it. It's a lucky thing I came along just now. How I do hate traps! If a trapper could put himself in the place of one of his victims for even a few minutes I guess he would never set another trap."

He Didn't Stop to Thank Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy once more began to move toward Jerry, and as he did so he took off his coat. Jerry drew himself together to spring as best he could at Farmer Brown's Boy as soon as he was near enough. Jerry felt quite hopeless, but he intended to fight to the last.

The eyes of Farmer Brown's Boy twinkled for he understood just what Jerry intended to do. That was why he had taken off his coat.

Ostrich Plumes

Uncurled ostrich plumes in Fuchsia and blue are swirled around an open top turban of Fuchsia colored felt. A matching piece of tulle covers the plumes.

"I've got a lot of respect for those big teeth of yours," thought he, and threw his coat right over Jerry. "Now," he added, "I guess I can get that trap off your leg without getting bitten."

He stooped to look for the trap, and then as he saw that it wasn't a trap that held Jerry he gave a little whistle of surprise. Out came his knife, and while Jerry struggled helplessly under the coat Farmer Brown's Boy began cutting one of the roots which held Jerry. In a couple of minutes that root was cut through.

Farmer Brown's Boy snatched up his coat and stepped back. Jerry was free. He could hardly believe it, but it was so. He didn't stop to thank Farmer Brown's Boy, but scurried away for home as fast as he could go. Once there, he began

FINE DINNER DISHES

There is no dinner dish that is more popular, if we except chicken, than ham.

Fig Cake.

Beat three egg whites with one-half cupful of sugar and add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat three egg yolks with one-half cupful of sugar, the grated rind of an orange, a teaspoonful of baking powder sifted twice with a cupful of orange juice and fold in the egg mixture. Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter in a cakepan, add one-half cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of chopped figs and a sprinkling of broken pecans. Pour over this the cake mixture and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven. When done turn upside down and serve with whipped cream. Stewed apricots, canned pineapple or any fruit desired may be used for this delicious cake dessert.

Baked Ham.

Soak a ham over night. In the morning put it into a kettle with one onion, one carrot, six pepper corns, one bay leaf, six cloves and water to cover. Simmer for three or four hours until tender. Remove the skin and stick with basting with the ham liquor and cider, using half of each. When the ham is well done stir some brown sugar into the cider sauce and spread all over the ham and brown. Serve hot with the liquor from the pan for sauce.

Deviled Lobster.

Cook three tablespoonfuls of onion, one tablespoonful of green pepper, three tablespoonfuls of butter very slowly until tender. Add one and one-half cupfuls of lobster meat and sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of mustard, salt and paprika to taste, with a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and a cupful of cream. Cook a minute or two. Place in ramekins or shells and bake well covered with buttered crumbs.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis

© Public Ledger, Inc.

WE SHALL begin our study of the language of the hand by consideration of fundamental elements. It is important that these be thoroughly mastered before progressing to the more complicated meanings of line and mounts within the palm. Study of hands by type is the first step toward proficiency in this age-old and fascinating science of character delineation.

The shape and structure of the hand instantly places it within one of seven classifications. Each type may be relied upon as a definite index of the possessor's major traits and tendencies.

The seven types are:

First. The Primal Type, the hand of the materially minded.

Second. The Square Type, the hand of the doer of worth-while things.

Third. The Mental Type, the hand of the brain worker and philosopher.

Fourth. The Temperamental Type, the hand of the born actor, artist, poet or musician.

Fifth. The Spiritual Type, the hand of the nervous, highly strung creative man or woman.

Sixth. The Idealistic Type, the hand of the man or woman who lives on a high idealistic plane.

Seventh. The Intermingled Type, which partakes of several or all of the qualities found in the types just given, as illustrated above.

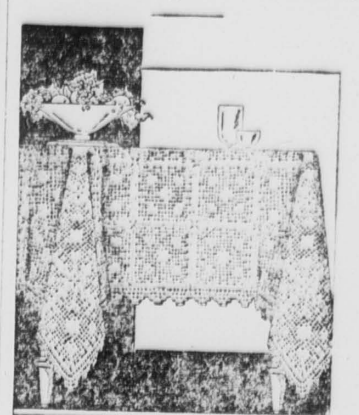

Fix these classifications and the qualities represented by each firmly in mind. These lessons which follow will describe the elements by which each type may be quickly recognized.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

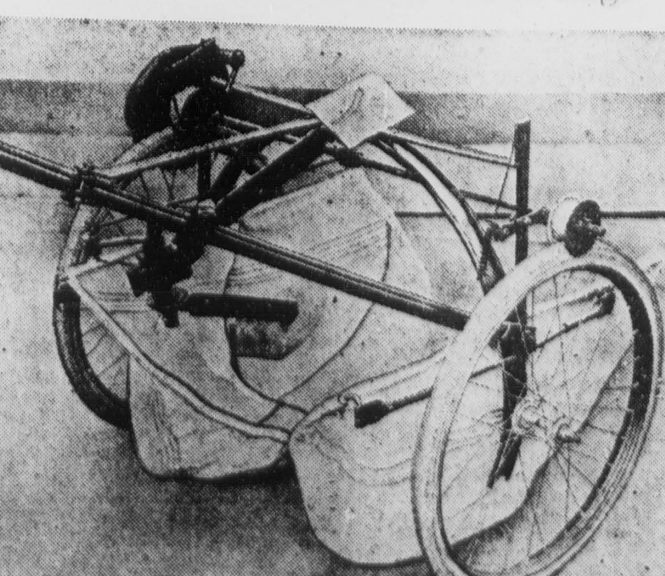

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes, leg nervous, miscible—all upset.

Don't delay? Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

DOAN'S PILLS

Made to Catch French Potato Bugs

This novel invention for catching potato bugs was recently demonstrated for the first time at the famous Concours Lepine in Paris. The wheels run in the furrows, straddling the plants so that the two bags drag along the ground on each side of the plants. The blade in the center swings back and forth, knocking the insects into the bags.

We are all proud of the Stacy Fork school this year. The softball team of this school won the championship of Morgan county at the county fair. The teacher, Gared B. Patrick, took the boys to the show Saturday night; Mr. and Mrs. Garland Patrick gave them a dinner Sunday; and Marvin Dunn gave the boys a treat in money. This was all done because they deserved it. The parents are backing the school this year and that's what makes good schools. If you have a good community, you are sure to have a good school spirit for the year. That's the reason Stacy Fork won so many things at the fair. Among the prizes won were the softball tournament, second prize in the parade, first prize in the school exhibit, and the school song, besides other little things.

Mrs. Lade Haney, who has been ill for several weeks, was removed from her home by her two sons, Frank and Edgar Haney, and taken to a hospital. A PAL

Melancholy Bagpipe
The "blow" was an ancient musical instrument in Brittany, a sort of bagpipe with melancholy notes.

Hardening Metal

Modern metallurgists and chemists know how to harden zinc, copper and other soft metals. The popular idea that ancient peoples like the Egyptians had a method of hardening such metals that is now lost is incorrect. Samples of ancient copper tools have been analyzed and found to be alloys of copper with other metals, made just as we make such alloys. Similarly, zinc may be alloyed with other metals to make it harder. Steel tools are much better than any tools that could be made from hardened copper, zinc or other metals.

The Earliest Camel

Three million years ago, according to paleontologists, a little creature about the size of a jackrabbit roamed the plains of North America. This was the earliest camel known to science, and through the succeeding millions of years it gradually developed into the camel we know today. Then, having populated Asia, it disappeared from the American continent.

The Sycamore Tree

As the trunk and branches of the sycamore tree increase in diameter the inadequate bark, instead of cracking longitudinally, sloughs off in irregular patches, leaving the tree strangely marked as though painted for martial camouflage.

Flowers of the Month

January's flower is the snowdrop; February's, the primrose; March, violet; April, daisy; May, hawthorn; June, honeysuckle; July, water lily; August, poppy; September, morning glory; October, hops; November, chrysanthemum; December, holly.

Over Rock of Gibraltar

Over the Rock of Gibraltar at certain times of the year, a large, low, peculiar cloud formation, called the "Levant" because it is created by moist easterly winds impinging on the rock, remains stationary for as long as 12 days at a time.—Collier's Weekly.

Wrought Iron

Wrought iron is the purest form of iron commonly known to arts and industries, containing about one-half of 1 per cent of carbon. It is made directly from ore, or by purifying (puddling) cast iron in a furnace or refinery.

Fate of the Felon

A person convicted of a felony may not vote during the time of his imprisonment, nor during any parole or probation period. He is entirely restored to citizenship, however, when his punishment has been completed.

Still Room for Bible

The Bible has not been preached in all the world. There are many parts of the interior of Asia, of Africa, and in the Far North where there has not been any preaching of the gospel message.

Introduced Study of Grammar
Crates of Mallus (Second century B. C.), a Cilician Greek grammarian, editor of Homer and librarian at Pergamus, is said to have first introduced the study of grammar at Rome where he was a lecturer.

Labrador Joined to Newfoundland
Labrador is considered a dependency of Newfoundland, a former British Dominion which is now a colony; its location is the northwest coast of North America.

Nice Custom

The custom of burying attendants with a king was followed in ancient Egypt and Babylonia, and is traditionally said to have been a practice in ancient Japan.

Colony of Nigeria

The British colony and protectorate of Nigeria forms part of British West Africa; its location is west of central Africa.

Pocahontas Had One Son

Pocahontas had one son, Thomas Rolfe, who was educated in England, came to Virginia and gained considerable wealth.

The Guadalupe River

The Guadalupe river rises in the Edwards plateau, Texas, and flows 300 miles southeast to the San Antonio a few miles above San Antonio bay.

Capital of Bermuda

Hamilton has been the capital of Bermuda since 1815. St. George was its first capital, and the state house, built in 1620, is still standing.
